

Handling of Client Money

Elliott Booth are members of UKALA, United Kingdom Association of Letting Agents.

UKALA members must publish their client money handling procedures on their website, as well as making copies available to customers upon request.

Elliott Booth adhere to the Client Money Rules of Conduct, using the following procedures:

All Client Money is held in a ringfenced Client Money Account with Royal Bank of Scotland, an authorised bank.

Elliott Booth operates a Client Money Account into which all Client Money is paid.

Elliott Booth ensures that Client Money Accounts are designated as such and are easily distinguished from any other account.

We have confirmed in writing with the bank holding the Client Money Account that the bank acknowledges that monies in the Client Money Account must not be combined with, or transferred to, any other account maintained by the Firm, and the bank shall not be entitled to exercise any right of set off or counterclaim against the money in that Client Money Account in respect of any sum owed to it in respect of any other account of the firm.

Records and accounts are retained which show all dealings with Client Money and demonstrate that all Client Money held by the Firm is held in a Client Money Account.

Elliott Booth publishes its procedures for handling Client Money on our website

Elliott Booth provides copies of our procedures for handling Client Money to any person who may reasonably require a copy, free of charge.

Records are retained which provide a history of all dealings with Client Money.

Client Money is repaid without delay if there is no longer any requirement to retain that money.

Client Money is repaid to the client upon request

Elliott Booth holds appropriate Professional Indemnity insurance cover

Surplus Client Funds

In the event that Elliott Booth receives surplus client money into our client account, the following best practice procedure is conducted. First, efforts to trace the clients or owners of the money are made, and any surplus money is held within a client account for at least six years. If, after six years, the client or owner of the money has not been found and no true claimant to the money has come forward it may be donated to a registered charity chosen by the Agent.

General Controls

Elliott Booth, its accounts team and Auditors ensure that;

Any employees with client money contact will always have clear segregation of duties and responsibilities

An appropriately qualified individual oversees the client accounting function

Elliott Booth employs competent and knowledgeable staff who are responsible for processing clients' money and are familiar with Client Accounting rules

Elliott Booth Accounting systems and client data are securely controlled and protected

Our I.T. and Computer systems are adequately protected for access, firewalls, back-ups and disaster recovery

Elliott Booth provides adequate cover for holiday and long-term absence

Principals cannot override controls surrounding the accounting system

All areas of the business apply the same level of controls in relation to the client accounting function.

Client Bank Accounts

Elliott Booth hold clients' money in one main ring-fenced client account, which is separate from all other monies. Client money is available on demand. The bank account is correctly titled to include the name of the Firm and the word "client" to distinguish the account from an office or any other account. Written consent will be provided where interest has been retained by the Agent.

Client Accounting Systems and Controls

Accounting records and systems are appropriate to the nature and volumes of client account transactions.

Systems provide details of all money received into and paid from all client accounts and show a running balance of all client money held in that account

Systems identify all receipts and payments to the client to which they relate

Client ledgers show cash balances held on behalf of clients at all times

Accounting records are completed promptly

Current balances and period reports are available upon demand

All ledgers include the Client name and reference

Overdrawn balances on client ledgers are prevented by systems controls

Adequate controls are in place over unidentified client money to ensure that such funds are kept securely.

Where Elliott Booth are paid surplus client funds, the client will be located and reimbursed as soon as possible. Funds held for more than six years will be donated to a registered charity.

A list of client bank account details will be maintained

Daily reconciliations are performed

Further reconciliations are completed at least once every month where clients' money is held in a general client account.

Any unresolved differences or adjustments are fully investigated and explained.

Any errors identified in the reconciliation process are promptly rectified.

Reconciliations are reviewed and signed off by appropriate senior staff.

Client accounting records, including copies of reconciliations, are securely kept for at least six years plus the current year.

Controls over the payment of Client Money

Elliott Booth ensures that;

Checks are made to ensure that sufficient funds are held on behalf of the relevant client before payments are made

Adequate authorisation procedures are in place for payments made by electronic methods.

All payment requests have supporting evidence and that documentation has been authorised in advance by a Director

Elliott Booth does not accept any payments by cash or cheque unless in special circumstances

Effective controls are in place over the setting up of new supplier accounts on the system